

Consider Tax Cut Or Hike

Kennedy May Present Plan To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is reported to be seriously considering asking Congress to give the President authority to increase or reduce income tax rates as a hedge against inflation or recession.

The proposal, sources said Monday, may be presented in one of President Kennedy's major messages to Congress this month. Presumably it would be apart from the White House's tax revision program.

Behind the plan is the knowledge that getting tax legislation through Congress is often a drawn-out business. The informants said that by the time a tax bill has been written, put through hearings, amended, passed and signed, a recession could skid into a depression.

There is strong and traditional resistance to any executive encroachment on Congress' taxing power. But administration aides reportedly have worked out a formula they think might be acceptable.

Although details were withheld, the plan was said to provide for presidential authority to cut the basic 20 per cent tax rate to possibly 15 per cent for a limited period only—perhaps, for six months—with the cut subject to congressional veto.

Riot Over; Prisoners Back to Cells

MONTREAL (AP)—Some 400 prisoners returned quietly to their cells today after they had rioted and battled police for four hours in Montreal's Bordeaux Jail Monday.

The men spent the night tramping about in two flooded, unheated cell wings where they were herded after the violent outbreak.

Authorities had expected more trouble getting them back to their regular cells, but officials said they returned without making any difficulty.

Lt. Col. Leon Lambert, governor of the jail, said prisoners in a block for persons awaiting trial took part in the rebellion and that "some of them looked drunk—possibly from goof balls (barbiturates)."

"The disturbance is far from over," Lambert told newsmen. "We have to get them back in their own cells yet."

He said three prisoners and a fireman manning a water hose were injured, none seriously. The fireman was believed struck by a piece of metal thrown by a prisoner.

Lambert said the rioting started with some grumbling and shouting about 4:30 p.m. which developed into open rebellion as the men were being served a roast beef New Year's dinner.

An electric power failure followed two hours later, knocking out the tower which controls the cell gates. "Without electricity, we could do nothing," Lambert said. "We had no lights or water here for two hours."

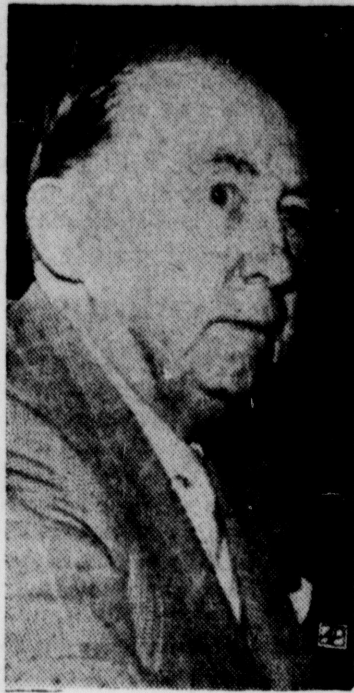

About 90 city and provincial police rushed to the jail and entered the prison yard with baseball bats and tear gas. Firemen were forced to run in hoses from outside the jail when water pumps failed to work.

Firemen doused fires the prisoners set in blankets and mattresses but "we didn't have to use the hoses on men," said prison controller J. A. Pilon. "When they saw the hoses, they got scared. They didn't want to get wet."

New Russian Ambassador Younger Man

Menshikov Goes Home Thursday After 4-year Stay

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
AP Foreign Staff Writer

The Soviet Union is sending a younger smiling Russian to replace an older smiling Russian as its ambassador to Washington.

Mikhail Aleksevich Menshikov, who sails for home Thursday after almost four years on the job, is known throughout the United States as Smiling Mike.

Anatoly Fedorovich Dobrynin, who will arrive in about a month to succeed him, may well become known as Affable Anatoly.

Dobrynin won his reputation for affability in almost three years at the United Nations, from 1957 to 1960, as the top-ranking Soviet citizen in the U.N. secretariat. He was an undersecretary, just below the then secretary-general, Dag Hammarskjöld.

He is a big, hearty, energetic, outgoing man well over six feet tall, with a booming voice, a bone-crushing handshake and a quick sense of humor. He is a partly bald, graying blond with a high, round forehead, silver-rimmed glasses and ice blue eyes. He speaks good French and good English.

Dobrynin's full name is pronounced "ah-na-toe-lee" (third syllable accented) "fyo-duh-ruh-voe" (first syllable accented) "doe-breen-yin" (second syllable accented).

He is only 42—17 years younger than Menshikov is now. He was born two years after the 1917 Bolshevik revolution and grew up entirely under the Soviet system.

The son of a Moscow architect, he was graduated from the Moscow Institute of Aviation and later from the high diplomatic school. He has the degree of candidate of historical sciences—an academic distinction somewhat higher than an American master's degree.

In 1946, he quit aeronautical engineering to enter the Soviet diplomatic service.

No Epidemic Reported In Sedalia Area

An ailment labeled as influenza has some Sedalians ill with chills, nausea and muscular aches, but the cases apparently have not reached epidemic proportions.

While there are scattered cases of the "flu" reported, the city seems to have escaped the ailment in the scope which troubled Boonville, Potosi and St. Louis in recent weeks.

A spokesman in the board of education office Tuesday morning said attendance following the Christmas-New Year holiday was normal with few reports of definite influenza.

Bothwell hospital officials said their records also indicated the illness had not reached serious proportions here.

Death Toll Goes Over Estimates

Record Total Die In Fires Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Traffic . . . . . 335
Fires . . . . . 83
Miscellaneous . . . . . 59
Total . . . . . 477

The New Year weekend traffic death toll, with a sharp rise Monday, surpassed the pre-holiday estimate of 330 and soared far past the record low mark.

At midnight Monday, when the three-day holiday period ended, the count of traffic fatalities stood at 335. In addition, there were 83 deaths resulting from fires, a record for a New Year period since World War II, and 59 deaths attributed to miscellaneous accidents. The over-all toll from traffic, fires and miscellaneous causes was 477.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated that 330 persons might be killed in traffic accidents during the extended weekend, earlier had hoped that the toll might be a record low for the three-day New Year period.

The record low of 269 highway fatalities was set in the 1949-1950 New Year period. The record traffic toll for a three-day New Year period is 374, set in 1959-60.

In the three-day 1960-61 New Year celebration, there were 338 traffic deaths, 66 perished in fires and 78 were killed in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 482.

Traffic deaths totaled 324 in the recent three-day Christmas weekend, while 83 persons died in fires and 86 others in miscellaneous accidents, an over-all total of 693.

The previous record of fire deaths for a New Year period since World War II was 74, set during the 1955-56 three-day celebration.

For comparative purposes, The Associated Press made a survey of accidents deaths in a non-holiday weekend, from 6 p.m. Friday, Dec. 6 to midnight Monday, Dec. 11. The count: 347 in traffic, 42 in fires and 37 in the miscellaneous group, a total of 446.

Gordon Says Messina Not Abe Rosen

MARSHALL, Mo. (AP)—August A. Gordon of Kansas City has testified Ralph Messina is not the Abe Rosen who rented an office suite from him in a building in Sedalia that was involved in an arson attempt.

Gordon's testimony in a sworn deposition contradicts information given to law enforcement officials by six Sedalia residents. They had identified Messina as the man known briefly to them as Abe Rosen before the discovery of a huge store of gasoline in the suite Gordon rented to Rosen.

Sedalia firemen pinched out a burning fuse and averted what might have become a major downtown fire last Feb. 12.

Messina, of Kansas City, a former restaurant owner, faces trial Feb. 28 in the Saline County Circuit Court here on a charge of attempted arson in the Sedalia incident. The case was brought here on a change of venue.

In the deposition filed in the court here, Gordon said he does not know Messina. Gordon's name has been removed as a prosecuting witness on the indictment against Messina.

Most of the deposition dealt with Gordon's relations with the man known as Abe Rosen in renting space in the Gordon building. No motive for the arson attempt has ever been clearly established by authorities.

Freedom Promise Made Dominicans

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Rafael Donnelly, president-to-be of the new Dominican Council of State, promised Dominicans freedom of assembly and discussion Monday and warned the armed forces against interference in the affairs of the new anti-Trujillo government.

Donnelly, named to succeed President Joaquin Balaguer as head of the ruling body, declared at the swearing-in of the seven-man council that freedom to meet and discuss all issues would be observed "because truth can be achieved only through conscientious and dispassionate discussion."

He asserted that the council, which assumed all legislative and executive powers until installation of an elected government early in 1963, wished to emphasize "our decided endeavor to maintain unalterable" the armed forces' non-political status.

The military, he said, must restrict its activities "to the defense of the independence and integrity of the republic, to maintain order and respect for the rights of man."

Maj. Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarría, chief of the armed forces, who has vowed to support the council, stood behind Donnelly as he spoke. Rodriguez Echavarría led a military move which crushed a coup planned by Trujillo diehards last October and paved the way for the expulsion of the family of the late Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo.

Consul-General John Calvin Hill represented the United States at the ceremonies. There were no ambassadors from the Western Hemisphere present because of the diplomatic sanctions.

Rebel Leader Associates Are Sought

BEJA, Portugal (AP)—The hunt was on today for political associates of a rebel leader who tried unsuccessfully to seize a military barracks and touch off a revolution against Premier Antonio Salazar's government.

Capt. Joao Maria Paulo Varela Gomes, 37, an army officer turned politician, lay near death in the Beja hospital. All his confederates, numbering about 40 and most of them workers, were either killed or captured Monday after a three-hour gun battle with Salazar's troops at the barracks of the 3rd Infantry regiment.

The army reported two rebels were killed and five wounded, but the insurgents' casualties are believed to have been much higher.

Most notable casualty on the government side was Lt. Col. Jaime Filipe da Fonseca, undersecretary for war who rushed to the southern city of Beja from Lisbon. He ordered the government forces to hold their fire and then walked into the barracks to demand that the rebels surrender. They shot him down. He died later in the hospital.

The government tightened security precautions by placing all police and military units in a "state of prevention." There was no general alert, but a huge Lisbon rally scheduled for Wednesday night was canceled, officially in mourning for Da Fonseca.

Salazar was to have addressed the rally to outline Portuguese policy for 1962 following a year of painful and embarrassing setbacks ranging from the seizure of the liner Santa Maria on the high seas to the Indian seizure of Goa.

The ill-fated uprising began in the sleepy New Year's morning. Witnesses said the rebels burst past the guardpost at the barracks, smashed into the officers' quarters and overcame the drowsy men. Two junior officers managed to escape to another strong point in the barracks and sounded the alarm.

The rebels were pinned down in the officers' quarters by machine-gun fire but could not be dislodged. Then Da Fonseca arrived and tried to arrange a surrender, at the cost of his own life.

Confer On Berlin Crisis Settlement

Dutch Agree To Talk On New Guinea

Sukarno Claims Disputed Grounds As a Province

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—The Dutch government announced today its willingness to discuss the future of West New Guinea with Indonesia without setting conditions beforehand.

Premier Jan de Quay read the government declaration in the lower house of Parliament at the start of debate on West New Guinea, last remnant of Holland's East Indies colonial empire which Indonesia has threatened to invade.

President Sukarno Monday proclaimed the disputed territory a province of Indonesia and ordered a special military command set up to direct the invasion if he orders it.

De Quay said the Netherlands is willing to enter into negotiations without making self-determination of New Guinea's Papuan population a prerequisite. Previously the Dutch had said they would negotiate only if the Papuans were assured the right of self-determination.

The Labor party opposition had been pressing the government to announce willingness to relinquish the territory and then to negotiate for some autonomy for the Papuans.

Foreign Minister Subandrio of Indonesia recently said Indonesia might consider giving West New Guinea "a great measure of autonomy."

Cuban Chief Changed By Invasion Try

GUATEMALA (AP)—President Miguel Ydigoras says last April's invasion of Cuba by forces trained in Guatemala so frightened Fidel Castro "that his warlike activities outside Cuba ceased since that date."

The Guatemalan president, disclosed officially in a New Year's message Saturday night for the first time that anti-Castro Cubans were trained in Guatemala.

"President Kennedy still has the responsibility of a sequel," he said.

He did not explain that statement clearly, but went on to say: "The Bay of Pigs (scene of the April invasion) was a victory, not a defeat, and he who begins under such auspices must go on with the great task of decommunizing that part of the American territory. There are signed commitments in South America."

Referring to the April invasion, he said Guatemala "encouraged thousands of exiled Cubans to fight to regain their own homeland instead of lamenting their ill fortune."

He said Guatemala reached an understanding with the exiled Cubans and "they entered into arrangements with a friendly government able to give arms and sustain training and a military campaign."

A secret training base was set up in Guatemala and another operated openly, he added.

First Step At Attempt To Reach Basic Terms

MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Wewellyn Thompson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko conferred 2½ hours today on Berlin. It was the first step in a new attempt to reach a basis agreeable to both sides for negotiations about the divided city.

Emerging from the Foreign Ministry, Thompson declined to say how the meeting went.

He told Western newsmen he definitely plans to see Gromyko again on the subject of Berlin, but he does not expect these preliminary meetings to last long. If a profitable foundation is found, the next step is expected to be a foreign ministers' conference.

Radio Moscow and the Soviet news agency Tass made no immediate mention of the day's development.

After reporting to the U.S. State Department in Washington, Thompson telephoned the British, French and West German ambassadors and filled them in on the results of his talk with Gromyko. He plans to have a further conference with the three at his embassy Wednesday.

The Thompson-Gromyko talk took place on the seventh floor of the Foreign Ministry, a spired skyscraper on Smolensk Square. The table contained nothing to eat or drink.

Dimes March Month Set For January

Gov. John M. Dalton of Missouri today issued a proclamation declaring January as New March of Dimes month.

In his proclamation, the governor urged citizens "to give your services and support to this campaign."

He pointed out that the work of The National Foundation, supported by the New March of Dimes, has already opened the way to victory over polio and "may one day lead to prevention of crippling birth defects and arthritis."

Birth defects, Governor Dalton noted, is the nation's largest unmet childhood medical problem, while arthritis and related diseases constitute the nation's number one crippler.

"The National Foundation's broad, expanded program, developed through years of experience and achievement as a voluntary health organization, provides real hope of eventual victory over disabling disease," he said.

The 1962 New March of Dimes begins in Missouri on Jan. 2. Chairman for the statewide campaign is Kenneth L. Tucker of Jasper.

Delusions Cause Convict to Hang Himself In Cell

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Haunted by ghostly delusions, a convict hanged himself in his cell at the Missouri Penitentiary New Year's Day.

Warden E. V. Nash said Glen C. Thomas, 38, had been worried about having to return to the state of Washington to face a manslaughter charge. He told the warden he had been having visions of the relatives of his victim and thought they had been visiting him in his cell.

Nash said Thomas hanged himself with some of his own clothing. He had been in and out of the prison hospital since he was received last June 15 and recently had been in the mental ward. He was serving two years from Ripley County for drunken driving.

The concerts scheduled in January are: Ottaville, Jan. 9, and Smithton, Jan. 23. Feb. 27, a concert will be given at Lee's Summit.

Concedes Loss Of Kongolo

Tshombe Claims Forces Beat Off Attack on Kapona

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe has conceded the loss of the north Katanga stronghold of Kongolo to troops of the central Congolese government but claims his forces have beaten off Congolese attacks at Kapona, south of Baudouinville.

Tshombe charged at a news conference Monday in Elisabethville that 13,000 Congolese troops advancing on Kongolo had murdered hundreds of civilians and burned villages.

He claimed that the Congolese abandoned heavy equipment and fled in the face of strong Katangan resistance at Kapona. The secessionist leader said both sides suffered heavy casualties there, asserting that most Katangan casualties involved civilians.

Tshombe also declared that he has rejected an order by Congo President Joseph Kasavubu that the Katanga Assembly convene Wednesday in Kamina under U.N. protection.

He said he had informed the U.N. Command in Elisabethville that the order for the Assembly to meet and ratify Tshombe's Kitona unity agreement with Premier Cyrille Adoula was "contrary and in direct violation of the Congo constitution" and "an abuse of power."

Tshombe has summoned the assembly to meet in Elisabethville tomorrow to discuss the Kitona agreement. But he said he was no longer sure the meeting would be held on schedule.

A U.N. spokesman said a Malayan patrol halted the bloodshed but that reports from the patrol indicated the death toll may actually be much higher. The U.N. spokesman was unable to say whether the chief had been elected.

Nab Convict Who Says He Had a Leave

LYNN, Mass. (AP)—A Mississippi convict who says he was given a leave of absence from prison to recover $500,000 stolen in a robbery, was arrested today as a fugitive.

Mississippi police said the convict's story was not true.

Kimble Berry, 24, of Greenville, Miss., was picked up at the Lynn home of his brother on a warrant signed by Arthur B. Clark Jr., judge of the Fourth Circuit Court of Mississippi. The warrant asked Lynn police to return him to Mississippi authorities.

Berry said he went to Lynn police voluntarily about two weeks ago and told them what he described as the true version of his departure from the prison at Parchman, Miss.

He was quoted by police saying he was given a 10-day leave, and supplied with a loaded gun and a $7,000 automobile to go to a Keiser, Ark., bank to recover the alleged loot and return to prison.

Berry said also he was promised a pardon if he successfully completed his mission. He had only five months to serve in an 8-year sentence on a manslaughter conviction.

The reputed loot was from a robbery last May at a Hattiesburg, Miss., construction firm in which $15,000-$20,000 in cash, about $289,000 in negotiable securities and about $239,000 in promissory notes were taken.

Berry was not involved in the robbery.

Fred Jones, superintendent of the Mississippi prison said Berry was lying in his story to Lynn police.

He said Aubrey Botts, serving 59 years for the robbery, apparently had given Berry instructions to pick up the loot. Jones said Berry and Botts were dormitory mates at the prison.

Jones said a warrant was issued for Berry's arrest when he overstayed what the superintendent described as a 10-day annual Christmas leave from the prison.

Castro Appoints New Ambassador To the Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro has appointed a new ambassador to the Vatican in an apparent move to ease strained relations between his pro-Communist regime in Cuba and the Roman Catholic Church.

Castro's appointment of Luis Amado Blanco y Fernandez became known today with the routine publication of the 1962 directory of the diplomatic corps accredited to the Vatican.

An official at the Cuban Embassy confirmed the appointment of Blanco y Fernandez, but said he had not yet arrived in Rome. The previous Cuban envoy, Dr. Jose Ruiz Velasco, presented his credentials in March 1960. He was recalled by Castro less than nine months later.

Castro's ouster of several Roman Catholic priests from Cuba led to further strain between the Vatican and Havana, and by last summer relations between the two appeared near the breaking point.

HAVANA (AP)—A New Year's message from Pope John XXIII expressing "sincere hopes for Christian prosperity for the beloved Cuban people" was published in Havana newspapers today.

The brief message replied to a New Year's greeting from President Osvaldo Dorticos. It acknowledged Dorticos' message of best wishes.

Asian Communists Admit a 'Bad Year'

TOKYO (AP)—All three Communist countries behind Asia's Bamboo Curtain have admitted in New Year's statements that 1961 was a bad year because of "natural calamities" or other difficulties.

The leaders and official organs of Communist China, North Korea and North Viet Nam in New Year's greetings to their people all placed emphasis on domestic problems rather than on international issues. Drought and flood contributed to the domestic difficulties.

It was generally fair in the west today and partly cloudy in the east and south.

24 First Class Letters Hold Identical Words

WASHINGTON (AP)—A small business firm in Missouri has received 24 first class letters signed by various officials and all containing the same message, Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., said today.

Seven letters, all with the same date were signed by Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, six of another date by the governor of Illinois, six by the mayor of Chicago and five by the general manager of the Merchandise Mart in Chicago, Curtis said. All urged the recipient to cooperate with "Project Prosperity," he said. The project was a business promotion effort of last year in the home furnishings field.

Curtis sent Hodges the mail his constituent had collected and passed on to him. In a letter to the secretary, Curtis described the recipient as an appliance distributor with a one room store. The congressman said the mailings demonstrate "obvious waste of postage, stationery, and manpower . . . bureaucratic operation so tangled in red tape that no system exists for setting up proper address lists."

Postpone Strike By Electricians

NEW YORK (AP)—A threatened strike by 9,000 electrical workers, which could tie up the city's $1.25 billion construction industry, was postponed today until Jan. 10. Negotiations with employers were to resume later in the day.

The postponement was announced in State Supreme Court, where a hearing had been scheduled on an employer request for an injunction to prevent a strike.

Herman L. Weisman, counsel for some 600 electrical contracting concerns told the court that during the weekend union and management representatives had agreed to resume negotiations. As a result, he said, the injunction action was being withdrawn.

The electricians are members of Local 3 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. They are seeking a 5-day, 20-hour week to replace the present 5-day, 30-hour week with which workers put in an extra hour daily at time-and-a-half pay. Other benefits also are sought.

• Circuit Court

Resident attorneys, and the defendants in criminal cases, met in Circuit Court Tuesday morning for the setting of the trial docket for the January Term, which began Tuesday. Judge Frank Hayes presided.

Taken under consideration in the setting were approximately 300 civil cases and about 40 criminal cases. As in previous trial docket settings, all of the cases filed are considered for that particular term, however, only a small percentage is actually set for trial. Many are dismissed and others are passed on to the next term.

Chief Explains Polygraph Tests For New Police

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Police Chief Curtis Brostron of St. Louis has sent a letter to the force explaining why all recruits and probationary officers are being given lie detector tests.

Since the procedure was instituted recently, six probationary patrolmen have either quit or been fired from disclosures ranging from petty theft while on duty to one case of statutory rape while not on duty.

The letter said in part that the lie tests are being given because it is "necessary that we keep our own house in order. Those who enforce the law must live up to it in every respect."

"We have been able (with the polygraph) to eliminate a number of applicants and probationary patrolmen who do not . . . measure up to the high standards we have set for our professional police officers."

Brostron said the tests are not being given to veteran officers because "those of you who hold the rank of patrolman or higher have had an opportunity to prove yourselves."

However, he said: "In the event that any officer gives evidence of improper behavior or serious character deficit, every available technique will be used to protect the integrity of this department and to make sure that the city of St. Louis is being served by the best possible officers."

Growth Rings On Tree Give Thief Away

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP)—Three detectives of the U. S. Forest Service, who matched tree growth rings much as police would fingerprints, have accused an Ellsinore, Mo., man of illegal timber cutting in a national forest.

Edison (Ed) Franklin O'Dell was charged in federal court today with cutting and removing five or more trees from the Clark National Forest near Williamsville in Wayne County.

O'Dell was employed as a timber cutter by a man who had a contract to cut some marked trees in the national forest as a thinning measure.

Trees to be removed with government approval are marked by Forest Service officers with two splashes of paint, one at shoulder height and one at the base.

The saw cut must be made between the two marks.

Government agents began investigating when they found several stumps that did not bear the paint mark.

In gathering evidence, they made use of the fact that annual tree growth rings are as unique to a tree as fingerprints are to humans.

No two trees ever have the same pattern, no matter how similar they may seem on the outside, said Quentin H. Buck, a Forest Service investigator.

The foresters visited long yards of various lumber mills near the national forest, taking samples from various unmarked logs that looked as if they might have been illegally cut.

These ring patterns were marked with patterns taken from the unmarked stumps.

The ones that matched were traced.

The Forest Service said the stand of timber from which O'Dell allegedly cut the government logs used to be one of the finest stands of short-leaf pine in the state but has been heavily damaged by illegal cutting.

Craft Unions Have Pulled Out Of the AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (AP)—All the craft unions that once belonged to the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department now have pulled out. The latest to leave is the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Gordon Freeman, IBEW president, announced Monday without elaboration that the IBEW was discontinuing its affiliation with the IUD.

Most of the craft unions have left because of disagreement with policies of Walter P. Reuther, president of the IUD and the United Auto Workers Union.

The seceding unions include the carpenters, plumbers, plasterers, painters, boilermakers, iron workers and operating engineers.

This has brought the IUD membership down from a claimed top of 7.2 million originally, comprising 69 unions, to a present claimed membership of 5.7 million, comprising 59 unions.

The craft unions originally organized on the basis of particular job skills. The industrial unions typically represent workers of entire plants or industries regardless of craft or skill.

The former AFL unions and former CIO unions never have been able to reconcile their conflicting jurisdiction claims and work rights rivalries.

At its recent convention, the AFL-CIO adopted new machinery involving use of arbitration for inter-union squabbles, but despite the expressed high hopes of leaders of all factions, the system has yet to be tested.

Quiet Youth Suspected Of Two Murders

GILLESPIE, Ill. (AP)—"Quiet, nice looking" David Bush, 18, was booked on suspicion of homicide Monday in the fatal shooting of his mother, a registered nurse, and the critical wounding of his 13-year-old sister.

Mrs. Lavaghn Bush, 43, an employee of St. Francis Hospital in Litchfield, Ill., and her daughter, Carol, both were found with .22-caliber bullet wounds in the head, lying in the living room of their home. Mrs. Bush was dead and the girl was reported in critical condition.

David Bush denied the shootings, but Macoupin County Sheriff Russell Brown said a .22-caliber automatic rifle was found under the covers of the youth's upstairs bedroom and the bed sheet was stained with blood.

The sheriff said Bush denied ever having seen the weapon. He said the youth told him "when you find out the truth, you'll find out it wasn't me."

A ballistics test will be made on the weapon, a bullet found in the living room and two spent cartridges also found in the room.

Authorities gave this account of Bush's story:

The youth said he returned home about 1:15 a. m. Monday and saw his mother and sister in the living room but thought they were all right. Short time later he said he re-entered the room and found they had been shot.

Bush went to a neighbor's to report the shootings.

The youth was held at Macoupin County Jail in Carlinville, about 40 miles northeast of St. Louis.

Sheriff Brown said Bush, described by acquaintances as a "quiet type...a nice looking boy who never got into any trouble," had quit Southern Illinois University recently. When questioned, Brown said, the youth claimed he still was attending the university.

Experience on Tap

In this country, even high-placed federal civil servants have trouble gaining status in the eyes of the public — and of their policy-making superiors.

Civil servants usually are thought of as dull dogs in the great, gray bureaucracy. Wide impression exists that most are timeservers, without imagination, resourcefulness, drive.

Probably every free government with a civil service establishment has a fair share of employees who do indeed fit this definition. But it would be unwise for us to be guided by the idea that the lowest common denominator governs all.

An economics professor, Jacob Viner, is one who has spoken for this contention. He says there are times when civil servants can save the bacon, for both the government and the nation.

In the magazine Foreign Affairs, he acknowledges at the outset that any president can gain a lot by drawing in the best brains from business, labor, the professions and the scholar's world. With their flow of ideas and fresh enthusiasms, they shake up the establishment and put a lot of steam into the policy-making process.

Yet Viner suggests that it is a mistake to rely wholly on these sources and ignore the existing solid structure. He writes:

"There is in the personnel of the established agencies, and in their filing cabinets, a store of knowledge, information, historical perspective, which it is dangerous to neglect when important decisions are being hammered out."

If Viner had his way, no important decision on a complex issue would ever be taken without first allowing full chance for opinions and ideas to filter upward from the intermediate levels of the affected agencies. Adds the professor:

"I have seen a number of instances where a key factor has received consideration only because some civil servant, not always a high-ranking one, was given the opportunity at some stage of the process to call attention to it."

As a prime illustration, he cites objections British civil servants raised in 1944 to the so-called Morgenthau plan for reducing a defeated Germany to a strictly agricultural state. The objectors wisely noted that a hostile Russia would be the chief gainer — and the plan was scrapped.

The balance between loosely organized top policy makers and the more rigid permanent establishment will perhaps always be a shifting one, with their relative roles arguable.

In the U. S. Civil Service realm, for one, there are plenty of able, energetic, thoughtful individuals doing important work with great dedication. It can be argued, too, that some of them ought to be listened to more than they are.

International School Lunch Program

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — It hasn't leaked out yet, but Kennedy advisers are considering what could be the most dramatic good-will gesture the United States has made in this decade. It's an international school lunch program.

The plan is to use American surplus milk and surplus wheat to give hungry children a supplemental noon meal all around the world.

It's estimated that as of today there are approximately 650,000,000 children suffering from malnutrition or hunger. While it would be impossible to feed all of them, George McGovern, head of Kennedy's Food for Peace Committee, estimated that it would be possible by the end of five years to feed 500,000,000.

At present, the United States is feeding a comparative handful — 30,000,000 — mostly through Care, Church World Service, Catholic Welfare or the American Friends Service Committee.

But with a tremendous farm surplus on hand, and American farmers able to produce much more, McGovern has proposed to the White House that the United States make a dramatic, heart-warming gesture to help most of the hungry children of the world.

He estimates that in addition to improving health, a little milk and bread at noon would also help school attendance, induce better scholarship, and win more good will for the USA than any other single act.

Pill Peddler In Trouble

It's not always easy for the public to know what's behind the groups that peddle frustration and right-wing bigotry to the American public. One of them, for instance, Rev. Billy James Hargis, a pitchman for various right-wing crusades, has just come a cropper with the food and drug administration.

It has warned those who continue to distribute his Nutri-Bio pills that they may be subject to federal prosecution.

Behind these pills and behind Rev. Billy Hargis' flamboyant hate preaching is a story which is difficult for the public to get. It's easy for them to hear Rev. Hargis help Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, promote the idea of high-school essays on why Chief Justice Earl Warren of the Supreme Court should be impeached. Or they hear Rev. Hargis warn of the dangers of communism, or read his literature aimed at Negroes and Jews.

But they don't know the facts about the food supplement he produces as a byproduct of his pseudo-patriotism.

This supplement, Nutri-Bio, has another interesting glamor figure behind it—Bob Cummings, the movie actor, who also operates his own TV show. In addition he holds the interesting title of 'Director of Research' for the 'Abundavita Corporation' which produces Rev. Hargis' pills. Bob Cummings also has his wife and five children on the payroll of the pill company.

Anti-Communism Pays

Rev. Hargis is the pitchman for two right-wing organizations, the Christian Crusade and We The People; is also a member of the committee of endorsers of the secret John Birch Society. And in these days when the communist label is being attached to those who want to pass a medical aid bill, or foreign aid for Yugoslavia, or a civil rights bill, Rev. Hargis has successfully peddled anti-everything pills along with his anti-communist propaganda.

Approximately 75,000 distributors now handle his pills, and his disciples display black and green Nutri-Bio stickers as if they were patriotic emblems.

Guest Editorial

RED BLUFF (Cail.) DAILY NEWS: Forest Conservation.—Recently a Manchester (England) hauling contractor was fined 50 pounds (approximately $140) and banned from driving for 40 years "for being in charge of a lorry while under the influence of drink."

As the Guardian of Manchester reported the case, the contractor was not caught driving. He was seen by a constable to stagger to a truck and put a key in the door. Tests showed that he had seven to seven and a half pints of beer or 14 small whiskies.

Said the judge: "It seems to me you are the sort of person who ought not to hold a driving license. It is not a matter of punishment, it is a matter of protecting the public."

The advertising and promotion for these pills, according to an official charge by the Food and Drug Administration, "Represent and suggest that the vitamin and mineral tablets and the baby bio article are adequate and effective for the prevention or treatment of heart trouble, hardening of the arteries, rheumatism, respiratory infections, impotency, frigidity, nervousness, loss of weight, loss of appetite, anemia, pyorrhea, chronic diarrhea, palpitation of the heart, mental imbalance, senility, premature death, arthritis."

Pills Don't Produce

Then the Food and Drug Administration takes a deep breath and continues with the diseases which Rev. Hargis' pills are supposed to help: "Eczema, virus infections, lung cancer, kidney diseases, diabetes, high blood pressure, tuberculosis, lack of mental intelligence, reducing, to promote health, beauty, radiant living, growth, strength, and athletic ability, to feel young and full of pep, to be calm and vibrant, for zest in living, to stay young and vital, to promote growth, prevent juvenile delinquency, and for other purposes."

"These statements," concludes Food and Drug, "are false and misleading, since the articles are not adequate and effective for such diseases, conditions, and for such purposes."

Food and Drug has warned Rev. Hargis and his 75,000 distributors, therefore, that "continued use" of Nutri-Bio sales material may subject them to federal prosecution.

But though Rev. Hargis' pills are as phony as most of his political propaganda, both have paid well. Long ago, Billy James Hargis moved from the soapbox circuit to buy his own building in Tulsa, Okla., as headquarters for his Christian Crusade.

Note — Hargis' advisory committee includes Congressman James Davis of Georgia, Democrat. Two other congressmen, Dale Alford of Little Rock, Democrat, and Noah Mason of Illinois, Republican, have praised Rev. Hargis. Presumably they were thinking about his politics, not his pills.

No Thieves' Picnic

Despite the acknowledged marvels of crime detection, it has too often seemed that initiative and ingenuity rest in most cases with the perpetrators of crime.

What we have needed for a long time is a safe that strikes back, a purse that somehow identifies itself as stolen, a cash register loaded with booby traps.

Fanciful as all this may sound, the first step in this direction has now been happily made. A British maker of money-carrying suitcases has used a little imagination.

A thief who grabs this tricky bag will find its handle quickly clamping down on his hand. Out of the case will shoot three metal arms five feet long, effectively barring easy movement. From within, a police whistle will blast loud and clear.

A good deal more of this sort of thing and thieves might find it easier to go to work for their money.

What's the Difference?

Some right wing elements in this country like to argue that the United States government is not a democracy but a republic. Often, speakers who contend this at right wing meetings are greeted with loud applause.

A look at the dictionary causes one to wonder what all the noise is about.

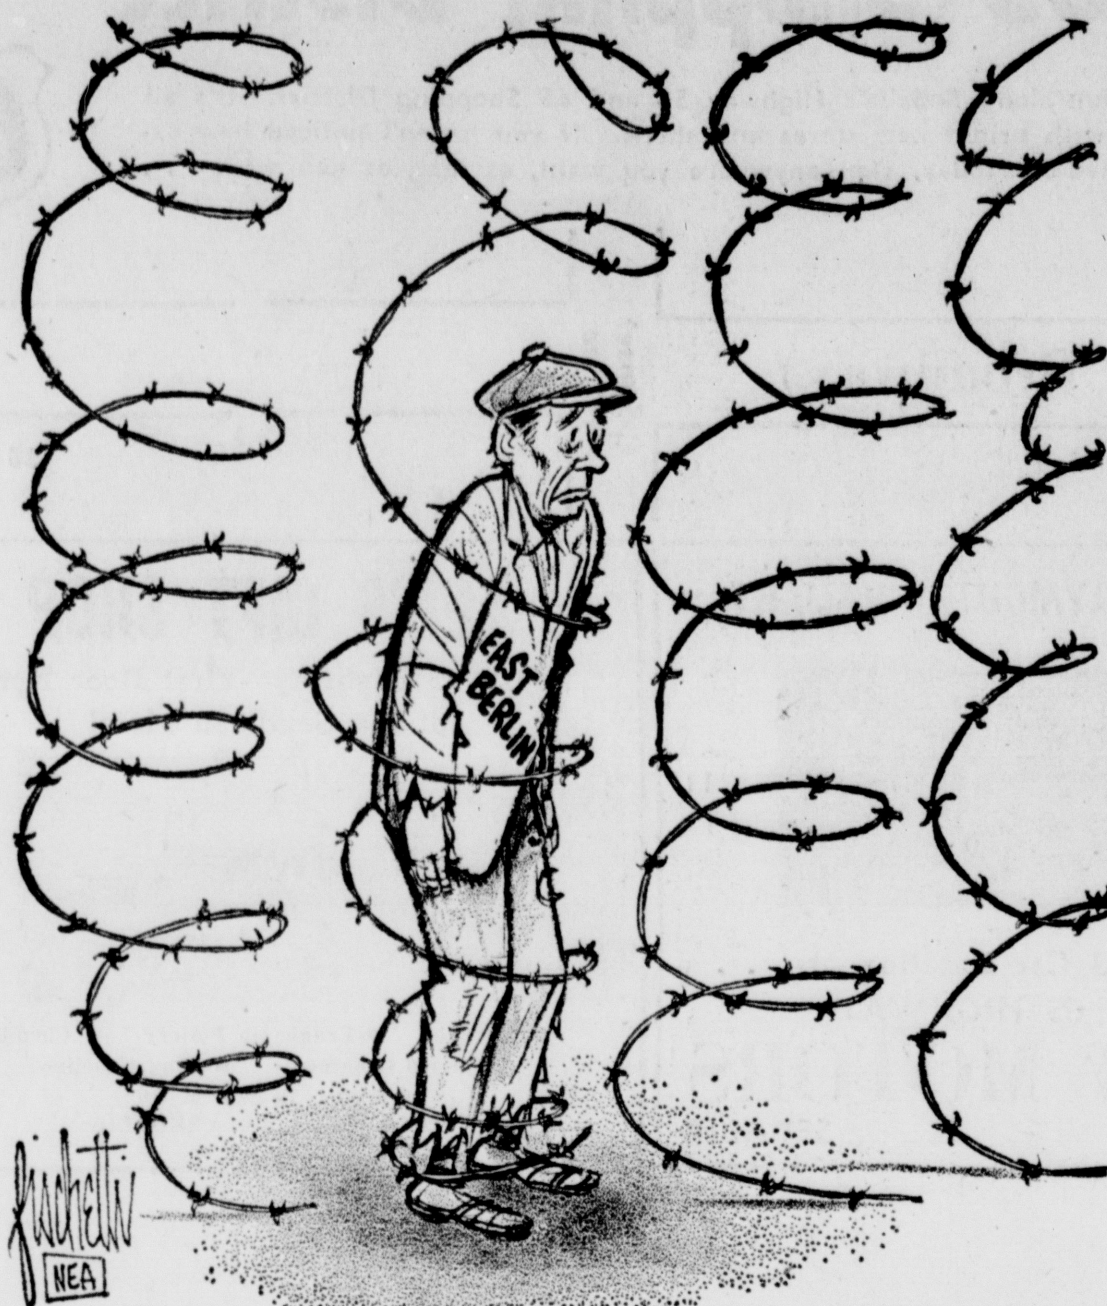

Webster's says a republic is a state wherein supreme power is exercised by representatives chosen by the people and responsible to them.

It says a democracy is a state in which the supreme power is retained by the people, but exercised directly or indirectly through a system of "representation and delegated authority."

There hardly seems cause for further comment.

No Surprises For Newsmen In 1961

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's plans for 1962 — as outlined to newsmen over the weekend at Palm Beach — call for no surprises and little heat.

His views are authoritatively based on discussions he has had with men close to him.

What he is reported to have said adds up to leadership but of a kind neither sensational nor original. It was that way in 1961. He apparently wants it that way.

In foreign affairs he plans a steady plugging away at policies already established and, on domestic problems, a mild and cautious attitude which some may think too mild and overly cautious.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk once remarked to people around him that he does not want to be judged on the merit of some particular action but, when he is through, on the over-all value of events, past and ahead, seems to have pretty much the same view.

While Premier Khrushchev at 67 is 23 years Kennedy's senior, it is the older man who sounds like a romantic, the younger, the one without illusions.

While Khrushchev has predicted the triumph of communism like a man taking pep pills, Kennedy has repeatedly regarded the East-West struggle as long, bleak and rugged.

This showed up again in the Palm Beach reports which said he thinks the balance of power is on the side of the West—but perhaps only marginally.

Over the long run, he thinks the West can keep the margin but not so much as to have full freedom of action.

Otherwise, what came out of Palm Beach on his thinking about foreign affairs can be boiled down to this: That this country will follow the Truman-Eisenhower policy of aiding newly emerged nations, neutrals included, to help them stay free of Moscow. It will keep strong militarily and stand with its allies.

In other words: he'll keep on doing in 1962 what he did in 1961. At home this year, as last, he has to deal with a Congress where, although his own Democrats are in a majority, the prevailing mood is and has been conservative.

His own performance last year, in dealing with Congress, was pretty conservative, too. He did not fight hard enough for his programs to make anyone very mad at home.

His own explanation for this may have been revealed at Palm Beach: that while he considers his administration progressive, his progressive aims are tempered by reality.

This could mean he did not spend time fighting Congress for something he didn't think would be approved or that he did not want to make so many people mad at him on one issue that they would gang up to block him on something else.

Private Money Plans Big Play In Student Loan Field

By PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — A private enterprise effort to compete with and perhaps reduce the need for any federal government financial aid for college and university students is now being organized by United Student Aid Funds of New York.

It is a nonprofit corporation designed to endorse personal loans made by local banks to needy students. Its appeal will be to the self-reliant student who does not want to be beholden to the federal government for a tax supported scholarship or partially subsidized loan.

The government now offers pretty tough student aid competition to any private organization to match. U. S. Office of Education, which administers the federal student loan funds, has just announced that it has made 238,000 loans for a total of over $130 million. This covers the period from February 1959, when the program was launched, through last June 30.

In the current college year it is expected another 150,000 students will borrow another $80 million under the government loan program, making the totals over 380,000 students with $210 million in loans outstanding.

These loans have been made at 1.40 colleges and universities having 88 per cent of this year's total higher education enrollment of 3.9 million in 2,000 institutions. The private United Student Aid Fund is now operating only in Indiana, where 1,500 loans were made this year for a total of $750,000. Additionally, Connecticut and Florida have organized under the USAF program and plan to make their first loans during the 1962 spring term.

Kansas, Maryland, Vermont and Pennsylvania are organizing and expect to make loans beginning next fall. Twelve other states are said to be considering USAF plans.

With Massachusetts, Maine, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Virginia and New Jersey already having independent college student loan plans in operation on a statewide basis, about half the states will then be in a position to aid needy students without government financing.

The USAF goal is to raise a $40 million reserve fund from private sources. Half of this will be raised by a national drive. The other half is expected to come from colleges participating in the plan to have students borrow at local banks.

The $40 million reserve will guarantee a credit 12.5 times as large, or $500 million. This is nearly four times what the U. S. government now has outstanding in student loans. Income from the USAF $40 million is expected to pay operating costs.

As the USAF plan is now being organized, loans will be made available only to students who have completed their freshman year with good academic standing. Each student may borrow up to $1,000 a year for three years. Repayment begins five months after graduation and is made to the lending bank.

The average loan is expected to be $500 a year or $1,500 for the three years. Repayment on such a loan would be $50.87 a month for 36 months, including 6 per cent interest.

In contrasting to this the present U. S. government loan plan allows the student to borrow up to $5,000 during the entire period of his higher education. Repayment does not begin until one year after graduation and the student is given ten years in which to pay, with interest at 3 per cent.

In the first two and a half years under this program, 12,785 students have repaid $1.9 million on their loans at a rate five times faster than was anticipated. Additionally, 4,000 graduates have applied for partial cancellation of their loans under a provision in the law which allows 10 per cent cancellation for each year the borrower is a teacher, up to five years.

Office of Education is expected to go to Congress in 1962 to ask

It Is Possible to Undo Birth Control Surgery

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.
Written for NEA

Q — Six weeks ago, after my first baby was born, my tubes were tied off at my request. I am a professional dancer and I thought I didn't want to have any more babies. Now my husband and I are just nervous wrecks because of what we did.

I don't think I will ever be interested in dancing again. Since bringing my baby home, I can't think of doing anything else except taking care of her.

If anything should happen to her and I couldn't have other children, I don't think I could live.

All my life I have done things without thinking them through and a lot of times I've been sorry. But this is the worst. I feel so very guilty about the whole thing.

I am writing you to see if there isn't some way to sew the tubes together again. If so, how soon can it be done? And would I then be in danger of a tubal pregnancy?

A — You have indeed been rash and ill-advised. However, it is quite possible that what has been done may be undone. I cannot, of course, recommend a specific surgeon but you may get complete information from the Secretary of the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology, 2105 Adelbert Road, Cleveland 6, Ohio. At your request, I am sure he will give you the name of qualified specialists in your locality.

Q — In July, I had an ovarian cyst removed and, just a few days ago, I had a sedentary cyst removed from behind my right ear. Is there any connection between these cysts? Will they become cancerous?

A — There is no relationship between the ovarian and the sebaceous cyst behind your ear to which, I am sure, you have reference. And there is no more than the remotest chance that either will become malignant.

Q — Is it necessary to use a douche after menstruating?

A — Most informed physicians and many specialists are of the opinion that douching is either a useless or a harmful procedure under any circumstances.

As a consultant recently wrote in the Journal of the American Medical Association "many women emotionally consider douching essential to cleanliness. A little training is all that is necessary to correct this belief in most instances."

However, if douche you must, avoid alkaline solutions and never use anything stronger or more complicated than one that contains two to four tablespoonfuls of white or brown vinegar to two quarts of warm water.

Sane Thought Tempers Anxiety Over Children

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Whenever her son is late getting home from a date, Mrs. G begins to worry. As she waits for the sound of his car in the drive, she feeds her anxiety with visions of all the possible disasters that could have befallen him — a hold-up on a lonely road, sudden illness, a car crash.

When she seeks sympathy from Mr. G, she doesn't get it. Irritated by the fear he feels in her he mumbles, "Oh, for goodness sake, he's probably having a ham on rye somewhere." Then he turns over in bed to resume his interrupted sleep.

Nor when her tardy child makes his appearance half an hour later does the boy show her worry any sympathy. By this time it has increased to a point of such fearful reproach that it sparks resentment in him. Instead of saying, "I'm sorry, I should have phoned you," he says, "Oh, for crying out loud, Ma, let's wait till the morning."

The adolescent is impatient with excessive anxiety over his safety, suggesting as it does to him distrust of his ability to take care of himself. He will punish us for it by refusing us understanding and acceptance of our need for those relieving telephone calls.

Those of us who suffer from this kind of panic over absent children may be able to use these words from "May Man Prevail," a new book by psychoanalyst Erich Fromm: "Sane thinking means not only to think of possibilities which are easy to recognize but to think also of probabilities."

It is always POSSIBLE that a late child has been delayed by disaster. The son over whom we are so worried may indeed be lying broken under a wrecked car but in view of his driving skill and the relative infrequency of car accident compared with nonaccident, this disaster is not PROBABLE.

Constant worry over the unlimited POSSIBILITIES of danger to an absent child isolates us from others' sympathy. Though they are willing to comfort our fears of PROBABLE danger, they grow tired of trying to relieve fears of POSSIBLE ones.

Like Mr. G and his son, they have learned that relieving us of fear of one possible danger will only result in our conjuring up another one. So they leave us alone with our unhealthy anxiety.

Our husband turns his back on it and our resentful child continues to somehow find himself always unable to make that sympathetic and reassuring telephone call.

As Dr. Fromm suggests, it is the obligation of sanity to register the difference between possible and probable dangers.

GROWN-UP FRECKLES FOR GRANDPA

DEAR ARTHUR: My grandson, who could win any "most freckled boy" contest, believes that I have freckles, too. Actually, I think that I have age spots, but how do I explain this to a 4-year-old boy?

HARLEY
DEAR HARLEY: You might tell him that they are a kind of freckles that grandparents get. "Age" or "brown spots," as they are sometimes called, are nothing more than changes in skin coloring.

Exposure to summer sun and aging tend to bring them out. They are about as important as freckles, which is to say that they have no medical significance at all.

I'm sure that you're not worried about hiding these freckles, but women who want to can use their favorite cosmetic.

DEAR MR. W.: By all means calculate how much you spent last year for gasoline and, if you smoke, on cigarettes, too. Your state taxes on these items are deductible on your 1961 income tax.

For example: If you bought 600 gallons of gas and your state tax was 5 cents a gallon, you paid $30.00 in state taxes. Even if you are in the 20 per cent bracket, which is the lowest, you can deduct $6.00 from your taxes. Not bad for about 20 minutes' work, especially when you're retired!

DEAR ARTHUR: I am a retired widower with no living children, brothers or sisters. My closest living kin are nieces and nephews. My social Security draw is $84.00 a month. Under the new laws, am I entitled to an increase?

W. C. H.
DEAR W. C. H.: You and all others who are wondering about getting increased benefits under the 1961 Social Security amendments should check immediately with the local Social Security office.

Increases were given to aged widowers, widows, dependent parents and those receiving benefits under $40 a month.

You may be eligible for an increase, which was not awarded to you.

MANY WOMEN who have been anxious for their husbands to retire because they thought they might go places and have a lot of fun together have found the men, who formerly liked to go, now wanting to just sit at home.

Somehow a woman who has had the days to do her housework and what she wanted to do, does not know exactly what to do with a man who wants to sit all day or tag at her heels.

But now comes a new angle to the situation. The wife of a man who is retired has been working when she was called in to work. But she had had a period when she didn't work. One day he commented: "I sure wish you'd be called back to work. I don't want you under my feet all the time."—H. L.

Resounding Triumph

Green Bay Packers Rest After Beating NY Giants

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The National Football League champion Green Bay Packers settled down today, protected against a long, cold winter by the glory of success—their resounding 37-0 triumph over the New York Giants.

The Packers also were snug in the high temperatures of prosperity, their individual shares of $5,195.44 from the receipts of Sunday's game. They agreed it was great to do business with the Giants.

So did the players' wives, wrapped in the warmth of mink stoles presented by the Green Bay management when the club won the Western Division title a month ago, also by beating the Giants.

The new crown is the seventh championship for the Packers and the first won at home since the club entered the league as a charter member in 1921.

The title was the first for Green Bay since beating the Giants in New York in 1944, and it was the climax of a complete rebuilding begun three years ago when Vince Lombardi quit as a Giant assistant coach to become coach and general manager of the Packers.

The conquest came on a combination of a battering Packer defense that created opportunities and a sparkling offense that cashed in on them.

"It was a personal thing with most of us," said defensive end Willie Davis. "We felt that we hadn't been getting the credit and recognition we deserved."

The Packer defensive unit held the New Yorkers to 31 yards rushing, 119 in the air and six first downs. The defensive corps grabbed four Giant passes and recovered one New York fumble.

The Packer offense, directed by quarterback Bart Starr and sparked by halfback Paul Hornung, did the rest.

Starr's play calling produced 19 first downs, gained 181 yards on the ground and 164 in the air. Starr passed for three touchdowns, and when his passes were not wrecking the Giants, Hornung was running through big holes in the New York line.

Hornung, on leave from his jeep-driving chores with the Army at Ft. Riley, Kan., carried the burden of the ground attack. His running mate, fullback Jim Taylor, was slowed by a back injury.

Hornung, the league's most valuable player in the past season and its scoring leader for the past three years, carried 20 times for 89 yards. He scored 19 points, setting an individual title game record. He scored one touchdown, booted four extra points and kicked three field goals to break the mark of 18 set by Cleveland's Otto Graham in the 1954 game with Detroit.

Hornung said "it was our day. We could do nothing wrong and they could do nothing right."

Each Giant received $3,339.99 as his share of the gate.

Black Hawks Hold Down Fourth Place In Hockey League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Black Hawks held down sole possession of fourth place in the National Hockey League today, thanks to goalie Glenn Hall.

The Hawks blanked the league-leading Montreal Canadiens 2-0 Monday night with Hall kicking out 32 blasts at his net. It marked the fourth shutout of the year for the 30-year-old goalie and was by far his most impressive.

The victory snapped a string of four straight ties for the Hawks and enabled them to edge ahead of the idle Detroit Red Wings in their battle for fourth.

In the other game, the New York Rangers turned back the last place Boston Bruins 4-2.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The rest of the American Football League may not be faring well in its fight with the rival National Football League for the top collegiate players, but the San Diego Chargers are more than holding their own.

Charger end Coach Al Davis handed Arkansas halfback Lance Alworth a contract under a goal post at the end of the Sugar Bowl game between Arkansas and Alabama Monday.

Alworth immediately signed it.

A few yards away, Coach Red Hickey of the NFL's San Francisco 49ers, looked dejected. He had reached Alworth first as the 178-pound halfback walked off the field. The 49ers picked Alworth in the first round of the NFL draft.

Alworth, a Brookhaven, Miss., product, said he picked San Diego because "The AFL is a new league. I'll have a chance to grow with it."

He became the second No. 1 choice of the NFL to be signed by the Chargers, who two weeks ago got Kansas Quarterback John Hadl — Detroit's selection. Hadl was picked the outstanding player in Saturday's East-West game at San Francisco.

Otherwise, the NFL has signed seven of its first round selections — headed by Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis of Syracuse, who went to Cleveland, after the Browns obtained rights to him from Washington.

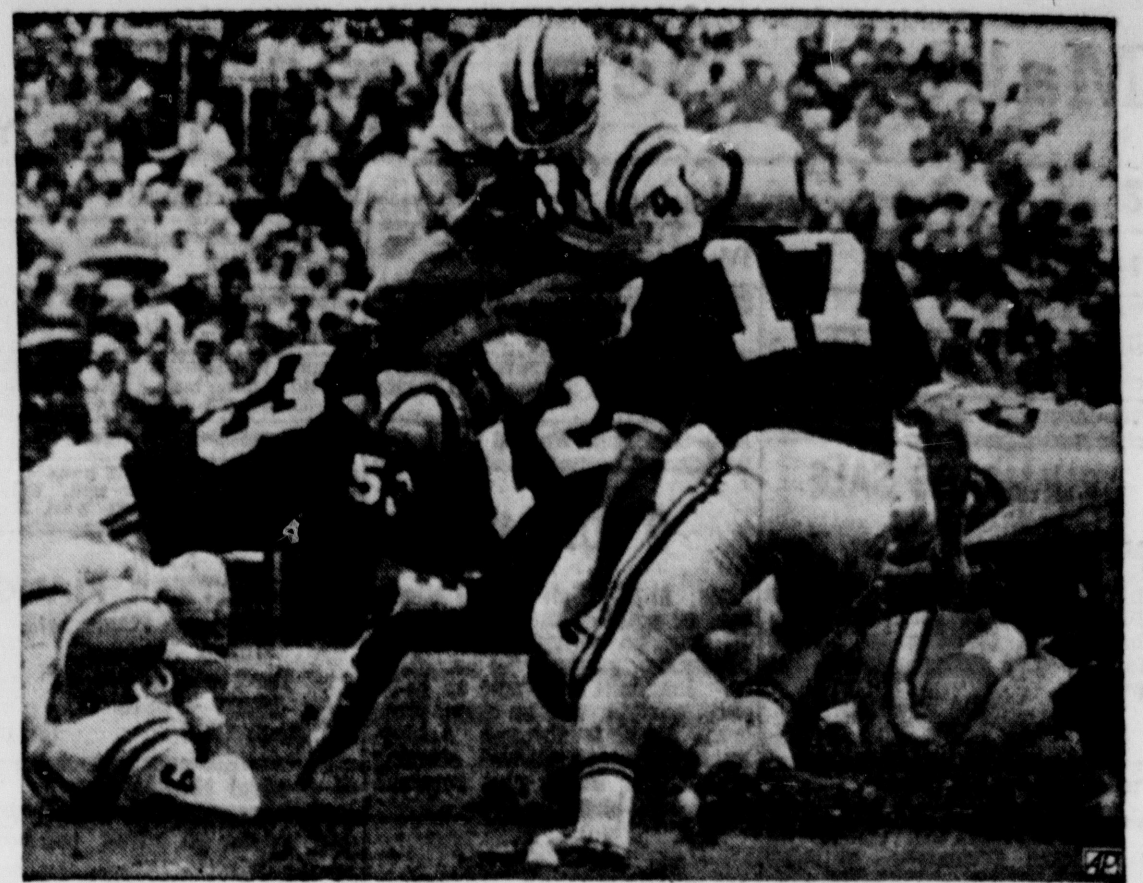

The jubilant Al Davis said terms of the contract wouldn't be released.

"It was very respectable. That's all I can say," said the 32-year-old Charger assistant.

Alworth was Oakland's second choice in the AFL player draft, but Davis said the Chargers "swapped several players" for the speedy player.

In Oakland, Raider General Manager Wes Fry said his team got four Chargers for rights to Alworth. He said Oakland has decided on two, but hasn't picked the others and did not announce any names.

Ohio State Cage Team Heads Poll

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

If there is any dissension about it, it isn't apparent. Ohio State seems to have convinced everyone it is the undisputed leader in college basketball.

The ten teams the mighty Buckeyes have rolled over so far are convinced. So are the 42 panel members voting in The Associated Press poll. They again made Ohio State the unanimous choice for No. 1 in this week's balloting.

The Buckeyes, deep in talent and experience and with a magnificent leader in Jerry Lucas, swept to three victories and the title in the premier event of the hectic holiday tournament program, the Los Angeles Classic. They beat Washington, UCLA and nationally ranked Southern California.

Cincinnati (10-1), Kansas State (10-1), Kentucky (8-1) and Duke (8-1) bolstered their national ratings with a successful week, while Villanova (11-0), Mississippi State (9-0) and Bowling Green (8-1) climbed into the top ten with tournament triumphs. Southern Cal (9-2) and Duquesne (8-1)

Art Market Wins His Second Victory

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Art Market won his second victory in four days Monday at Santa Anita and this one really counted.

J.J. Fendrick's 4-year-old son of To Market captured the $28,250 San Gabriel Handicap before a crowd of 42,699. He won in a blanket finish, beating Grey Eagle by a nose and The Axe 2nd by a head. The mile and one-eighth was run in 1:48 2-5.

Last Thursday Art Market beat Micarlo by a half length in the Seattle World's Fair purse. But the stewards disqualified him for lugging in near the wire and placed him second. For failure to keep Art Market straight, jockey Willie Shoemaker is sitting out a suspension. Ismael Valenzuela was aboard the winner Monday and he gave him a fine ride.

Crimson Tide Still Towers As Nation's Top Grid Team

Other College Bowl Victors Walk On Air

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama's convincing Sugar Bowl victory over Arkansas left the Crimson Tide still towering over the field today as the No. 1 college football team in the country.

Alabama's 10-3 decision in New Orleans Monday turned out to be pretty much of a routine job—a rock-ribbed defense and enough offense to keep the enemy off balance.

But if Alabama didn't get much satisfaction out of its Sugar Bowl victory, Minnesota and Texas, two other bowl victors, were walking on air.

Minnesota defeated UCLA in the Rose Bowl 21-3 to make amends for its loss a year ago. The Gophers got in the back door, when Big Ten champion Ohio State declined a bid.

Texas, playing before a home crowd in Dallas in the Cotton Bowl, defeated Mississippi 12-7.

Said UCLA Coach Bill Barnes:

"Minnesota didn't surprise us with anything. They just overpower

you. They have a big strong line and can move anybody around."

Texas' big problem was to stop

Mississippi's ace passer Glynn

Griffing. The problem was solved and that spelled the difference.

Griffing did connect with Reed

Davis on a 20-yard flip in the end zone in the third quarter for the Rebels' only touchdown, but otherwise spent a frustrating day.

The Rebels, for their part,

pretty well bottled up All-America

Jim Saxton. He bucked over from the 1 for the first Longhorn score.

Otherwise, Mike Cotten handled the offense and tossed a 25-yard pass to Jack Collins for the other touchdown.

"I had never beaten Mississippi,"

said Texas Coach Darrell

Mississippi Coach Johnny

"We didn't know what to do with it until after the half," he commented gloomily.

Louisiana State, the heaviest favorite of all four bowl teams, appeared in for trouble at the start. Wendell Harris sent the Bengals in front with a first-period field goal, and they scored two more points on a safety a few minutes later.

Then Colorado fullback Loren

Schwenger intercepted a pass and whipped 59 yards to zip the Buffaloes into the lead. It didn't last long, though. Charles Cranford plunged over from the 1,

Jimmy Field sprinted 9 yards for another touchdown and Gene

Sykes blocked an attempted punt

by Huck McBride in the end zone and fell on the ball for a third score.

"I believe we are as good as any team in the country," said

LSU Coach Paul Dietzel, who is rumored to be heading for Army.

"I don't think the team was as sharp as it was in the regular season when we played a major opponent every week."

Colorado Coach Sonny Grandeli-

"we picked the wrong day to

Germany Greeting

A New Year's greeting from Dieter Kleinschmidt, Ulm, Germany, to the people of Sedalia was received by the Sedalia Democrat-Capital. The American Field Service student, who spent the year 1960 here wrote:

"Dear friends:
"At the end of this year 1961, my thoughts are especially with all the many people that I was able to get to know during my stay in Sedalia as AFS student. I want to express my appreciation to all who have helped making the year I spent in Sedalia the most wonderful and enjoyable for me. In remembrance of Sedalia and its wonderful people wishing a happy New Year."

Hauls Brothers To Safety After Fall Through Ice

BRAINTREE, Mass. (AP)—Stephen Lyon, 13, inched out on the ice of Montauket River toward a hole 10 feet from shore where brothers David and Mark Barry struggled in the water.

Carefully Stephen extended a hand, seized Mark, 8, and lifted him to firm ice. A moment later he hauled David, 11, to safety.

The three boys had been coasting on the ninth fairway at the Braintree Municipal Golf Club. Mark's sled coasted onto the ice at the bottom of the hill and dropped into the hole. As the younger brother clung to the edge of the ice, David went to his aid and slipped in, too.

Veteran Member Of Congress Is Dead at Age 66

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP)—Rep. John J. Riley, D-S.C., veteran congressman from South Carolina's 2nd District, died at his nearby beach cottage of a heart attack early today. He was 66.

Riley lived at Sumter, about 95 miles west of here, but he often visited his cottage at Surfside Beach, 13 miles southwest of Myrtle Beach.

Riley had served eight terms in Congress and was first elected to the 79th Congress in 1945 to succeed the late H. P. Fulmer of Orangeburg. He served two terms before he was defeated by Hugo S. Sims Jr., who lost to Riley in a bid to succeed himself in the next congressional election. Riley then was re-elected six times.

Why let Valiant's slightly lower base price deprive you of hundreds of dollars in additional car value you get in The Lark? ## Young Year of 1962 Shows Some Oddities All Its Own

By ANDREW MEISELS
Associated Press Staff Writer

A 2-day-old babe called 1962 already has begun to display some oddities all its own. Here are some of them:

Phoebe, who is Mrs. Peter II, gave birth on New Year's Day while under water.

Phoebe is a hippopotamus, and the underwater delivery is peculiar to the species. Her bouncing baby hippo bobbed to the surface of the Bronx Zoo's elephant pool. Since mama hippos are extremely protective, nobody could get close enough to the newcomer to establish its sex.

The weight of the Bronx Zoo's first 1962 arrival was estimated at between 50 and 60 pounds.

First Born

The first baby of 1962 born in Iosco County, Mich., is appropriately named. The baby has not yet been given a first name, but his last name is First. He is the son of Airman IC and Mrs. Larry First.

Habit?

Mrs. Dorlin Kall gave birth to the first baby of 1962 in Peekskill, N.Y., hospital.

It was not an unusual distinction for Mrs. Kall. She gave birth to Peekskill Hospital's first baby of 1959.

No Takers

The Burlington Vt. Free Press had no takers for an offer it made in a front page editorial prior to the New Year's holiday.

The newspaper offered to pay the funeral expenses of any Vermont motorist who registered with the Free Press in advance and then got himself killed over the holiday. None chose to tempt fate by registering.

The offer was part of a safe driving campaign that apparently paid off. Vermont had no New Year's holiday auto fatalities.

Southern Hospitality

A group of whites and Negroes pressing for equal rights in Maryland restaurants were invited to a New Year's Day open house given by Gov. J. Millard Tawes.

The group accepted the invitation, attended the affair, partook of punch and cookies and shook hands with the governor.

Then the demonstrators went outside and continued their campaign for equal eating rights—by picketing the governor's mansion.

New England Bracing For A Snowstorm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A New Year's Day snowstorm which dumped up to a foot of snow in parts of Virginia and Tennessee and heavy falls in other sections of the South and East, headed into New England today.

Many schools in Virginia, Tennessee and Maryland were ordered closed because of the snow. Traffic was slowed and driving conditions were hazardous in many parts of the snow and rain belt.

Colder weather spread into the Northeast, with temperatures below zero in some northern sections of New York State, including -13 in Watertown. Freezing weather was reported in parts of Alabama and Georgia.

The snow ended in the Southeast but continued in parts of the middle Atlantic Coast states and into the south Atlantic Coast states. Rain and drizzle sprinkled the south Atlantic seaboard.

There was a foot of snow in southwest Virginia and in mountain areas of Tennessee. Six to 8 inches of snow covered the ground in southern Virginia, with 4 in Richmond and 3 to 5 inches in areas east of Richmond. Schools in 24 counties and 3 cities were closed.

In addition to the 12 inches of snow in mountain areas in Tennessee, 1 to 4 inches was on the ground in the extreme eastern sections. Schools were ordered closed in Johnson City and four counties.

Some schools were closed in the eastern half of Maryland, hit by a 5-inch snowfall. Nearly four inches of snow fell in parts of lower Delaware, including Dover, the state capital, Georgetown and Bridgeville.

Snowfalls in Georgia ranged from nine inches in mountain areas to 4 to 7 inches in northern areas.

More than six inches of snow hit Atlantic City, N.J., during the night but smaller amounts were reported north and south of the Atlantic Ocean resort. Snowfalls measured 4 to 8 inches in western sections of the Carolinas. Rain fell along coastal areas, with some sleet and gusty northerly winds as the storm moved north-eastward.

Fog snarled air transportation in Washington over the New Year holiday period and again blanketed coastal areas of Northern California.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

Handy Man Can Fix Dribbly Drains

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

There's no rest for the handyman who owns an old house.

It may have Colonial charm. It could be a house that Washington had slept in, or a house that has been owned by farmers. If the house is old, it needs upkeep, repairs or remodeling, or all three.

A man adept with crowbar and hammer would do well to find out what the little woman means when they are buying an old house and she says casually, "ooh, we can remodel it as we go along, dear." Those words will echo in his ears for a long time to come, especially during winter when the family hibernates indoors.

It's the little beginning with hammer and chisel that can lead to mallet and axe. A man who digs out a corner cupboard at his wife's suggestion could find that she visualizes a fireplace in that area. Women can dream bigger than Blandings.

A wife who urges the purchase of a house with the idea of making a few changes should remember that major structural changes require a plan, and a few more gadgets than she'll find in the tool belt she gave her husband for Christmas. A big project requires:

An expert do-it-yourself type or an architect and carpenter.

Needs and desires that are well defined.

A good-size budget (even if you do it yourself).

Before you heckle that man into making a swimming pool out of the bird bath, consider doing first things first.

Plumbing and wiring are main necessities. Adequate wiring is required if you have an assortment of large and small appliances. And old rusty pipes get older and rustier. If you need new plumbing or wiring it will pay dividends whether you stay in the house a long while or sell it.

If you are trying to maintain the charm of an old Colonial house, don't make the kitchen so modern that it pales the rest of the house. The effect is like stepping from one century into another. You can have modern appliances without getting the

Predict Dietzel To Answer Call From West Point

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — While Coach Paul Dietzel ponders an offer to rescue Army football, speculation grows today he will leave his Louisiana State powerhouse and answer the call from West Point.

After LSU defeated Colorado 25-7, in the Orange Bowl, Monday, Dietzel retained his poise and remained noncommittal in a shower of pressure from all sides.

"Concerning my move to Army, I put it out of my mind until this game was over," the 37-year-old ex-Army assistant said. "Now I'll give it my full consideration. I have no further comment."

If Dietzel makes the move as suspected, he is in no position to be definite. First, the West Point Superintendent, Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, will announce the successor to Dale Hall—fired Dec. 9—which he hopes to do this week.

Second, LSU officials say Dietzel has not requested release from his $18,500 a year contract which still has four years to run.

Dietzel persistently refused to admit he had received a direct offer from Army, but most everyone else felt he had.

"neither fish nor fowl" feeling. Take advantage of walls, floorings, counter tops and cupboards that blend in with the old atmosphere you are trying to maintain, offering modern utility as well. A fan may be necessary for ventilation, and a good light is an absolute necessity.

If the house is sturdily built with a good roof, forget about its gingerbread lines and curlicues as you invest your funds in renewing the indoors. Revive old floors by scraping and waxing, replaster walls, repair wainscoting, renew fireplaces to former beauty, and you'll begin to appreciate your investment.

Postpone a project that can't be done properly by the home handyman or hired help within the budget you've set. Don't try to spread a little money over a large area.

You can consider an old house a bargain, providing you are willing to make needed repairs and renovations. But if you skip over obvious space wasters such as a seldom-used back stairway which could be removed to provide a new lavatory or extra feet to a small kitchen, you aren't getting proper mileage out of your house plan funds. The removal of that flight of stairs could mean an extra room upstairs, a larger bedroom or a new dressing room.

When adding modern innovations to an old structure, try to maintain its aged appearance. A new storage closet should have strong L-shaped or H-shaped hinges and latches to preserve the feeling of antiquity.

Many old houses require insulation. Before the man of the house is urged to do this project, see if you can't have the stuff blown in from outside. The less you must do with walls in an old house, the better. The studs rarely run 16 inches and chances are nobody bothered with a plumb and level.

Old country houses often were built at work parties while the workers took breathers and relaxed with hard cider, and the only thing on the level was the foundation.

'Live for Others' Is Motto of Centenarian

Mrs. Osterman offered this recipe for long life: eat well but moderately, and "live for others."

Iron, Steel Magnate Dies At His Home

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—Benjamin F. Fairless, 71, the son of a steel miner who rose to head a steel empire, died Monday at his home in the foothills of the Allegheny Mountains.

Fairless was president of the American Iron & Steel Institute and retired board chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp.

His life story was an American success saga. He was the son of a Welsh immigrant; he started his business career as a newsboy; he worked as a parttime janitor in his high school, and he financed his college education by teaching in country schoolhouses.

He started at the bottom and he worked his way up to the top by what friends and adversaries agreed was ingenuity, diplomacy and hard work.

Fairless was the very model of the rugged individualist. He was a staunch defender of big business, and if he had to talk gruffly to congressmen in pleading its cause, he did.

"In what other country of this world could I have fared as well as I have here in the United States?" he once remarked in a speech.

Fairless recently spent six weeks in a Pittsburgh hospital under treatment for pleurisy.

Just two weeks ago, he had been granted a divorce from his second wife, the former Hazel Hatfield, daughter of former West Virginia Gov. Henry D. Hatfield. His first wife, Jane Blanche Truby, died in 1942.

Fairless was born on May 3, 1890 to Mr. and Mrs. David D. Williams in Pigeon Run, Ohio, a mining town near Canton. His struggling parents sent him to live with an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fairless, at Justus, Ohio, when he was only five years old. They later adopted him.

New Year's Riot Inciters Hauled Into City Court

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Twenty-two persons were ordered to appear in municipal court today, charged with taking part in a wild New Year's riot that began with stolen kisses and ended in a fog of tear gas and water from fire hoses.

Police Capt. Robert Peel said the 22 were booked on assorted charges from inciting riot to creating a disturbance. In addition, he said, 16 servicemen arrested were turned over to military authorities for disciplinary action. At least 30 persons were injured, none seriously.

The riot began when officers arrested several youths who were stopping cars and kissing the women occupants. Jeering crowds attacked a police car and hurled liquor bottles and glasses for two hours before tear gas and fire hoses dispersed them. About 1,000 persons were involved.

Triplet Sons Born On New Year's Day

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ebba Cuddy, a twin herself, gave birth to triplet boys on New Year's Day.

Mrs. Cuddy gave birth to the infants in 38 minutes at Chestnut Hill Hospital where her husband, Dr. Vincent D. Cuddy, 29, a native of Wheeling, W. Va., was completing a term of duty as a resident. The Cuddys have three other children.

Give Independence To Western Samoa

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Western Samoa became the modern world's first independent Polynesian nation Monday.

Ceremonies at Apia, the capital of the island group in the South Pacific, ended New Zealand's 48-year administration of the pre-World War I German colony.

With New Zealand Prime Minister Keith Holyoake in attendance, New Zealand's flag was lowered in Apia and Western Samoa's new flag—a southern cross on a red and blue background—was raised.

38 Peace Corpsmen Go To West Africa

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirty-eight Peace Corps volunteers are off for a two-year tour of duty in Sierra Leone, West Africa, to teach English, geography and math to secondary school students.

The volunteers, who average 28 years in age, left here by chartered plane Monday following 26 days of jungle living in Puerto Rico.

Earlier, they spent seven weeks at Columbia University where they studied American history, African subjects and Mende, the native language of Sierra Leone.
